Deadline for the December 2013 Newsletter is 3pm Monday 25th November
I am very pleased to report that our 25th Birthday evening celebrations on Friday 18th October were a great success. A good crowd arrived in perfect weather. At the beginning the rather noisy chatter indicated lots of meeting and greeting. There was a good mix of tutors along with members old and new. There were visitors from other regions and representatives from the Shire. The event was held in the old Market Building where flowers, silver details and some terrific displays from various classes added to the atmosphere. The High School string quartet played beautifully at the entrance, food and drinks were served almost immediately. It was a lively event even before the entertainment began!

The performances were a marvellous mixture of U3A talent and quite varied professional entertainment. The crowd was pleased and responded noisily. Hot nibbles were served at interval and the wine flowed freely. The atmosphere was wonderful with the hall full of happy faces.

Peter Stephens and his team launched our new book 25 Years and Counting, a beautifully presented story of our U3A’s history. This book was two years in the making; it has a lot of colour photos and has been well edited. It is a publication members can be proud of. Printing was funded by a personal loan from a member who wishes to be anonymous, and will be paid back when we sell our fairly modest print run.

Besides a small grant from the Shire this wonderful 25th Birthday event was self-funded. A raffle with excellent prizes raised a substantial amount, and meant the entrance fee was kept low. I think members at the party felt very much part of this event, so many had sold books of raffle tickets – and it was a responsible way to pay for our celebrations. Last year as you know we ended the financial year in the red. This year matters financial have been tightened and we have thus been able to avoid raising subscriptions.

The anniversary party was a real community event. I thank Joe Scoglio and his Special Events team for their imaginative ideas and the skills to realise them. Thank you to all the volunteers who were “at work” on the evening to see that events flowed smoothly.

Earlier in the same week there was an International U3A Asia Pacific Alliance Conference in Melbourne Town Hall. Sally Kaptein, our Network rep, and Jeanette Johnston, our new secretary attended the first day. Robyn Yeoman and I attended on the second day. Our reports are elsewhere in this newsletter.

♦ And in the meantime Committee members are at work with their various responsibilities.
♦ Robyn Yeoman and Deidre McDougal are putting the new Prospectus together. Tutors and new tutors – please let Robyn have your application to run a course urgently.
♦ Dick Mack and his working group have a plan to review U3A position descriptions.
♦ Special Events have a couple more Coffee Mornings and a Christmas Party for which details are being put together.
♦ Brian Richardson, our treasurer, will be snowed under for some time sorting details of income & expenditure for both the party and the Mildura visit.
♦ Bev Orgill and her team will continue to organise volunteers so our events and gatherings run smoothly and finish in an orderly way.
♦ George Gray keeps a close eye on the Office roster and often fills the gaps himself.

And I try to keep in touch with what everyone is doing.

I sincerely thank you all.

Applications for next year’s courses are arriving daily. It appears that regular courses will be held again in 2014 with some tweaking here and there. Compiling the 2014 Prospectus begins the first week in November with the goal of delivering to you, our members, at the Coffee Morning on Friday 6 December 2013.

Courses Subcommittee Meeting Friday 11 October:

Role Handover: Robyn Yeoman has commenced as Course Coordinator and is receiving the applications for courses in 2014. Deidre McDougall is Course Administrator and will be working with Robyn to compile the Prospectus. We are recruiting another member to replace Dick Mack. If you are interested contact Robyn or one of the other subcommittee members for more information.

For bookings and timetabling information for this year please continue to contact Robyn. Deidre will take on this role in 2014.

Class Visitors is a contentious issue that we have debated at length. It concerns someone who visits a class to ‘check it out’. The central issue is how many times may a person ‘visit’ a class before being required to formally enrol, and if applicable, join U3A Castlemaine. We need to distinguish between someone who is visiting a local member and where appropriate accompanies the member to a class, eg Movies of Merit, and someone who is interested in attending the course. It is inappropriate for some courses to have visitors, eg Write On! Memoir, due to confidentiality issues and group cohesion. The debate continues so if you have any thoughts to share please email Robyn at the address below.

Presenters Workshop: a small number of people have expressed interest in the workshop that will be held on Wednesdays 6 and 13 November from 9am to 12.30pm in the Manse room. Pam Harris is contacting these members to determine their specific needs. It’s not too late to enrol in the Workshop!

Course Feedback: Feedback/Course Evaluation forms are trickling in as courses finish or near the final class of the year. The subcommittee agreed that we needed to persevere in order to develop a feedback culture across the organisation. Several suggestions were made to make the forms more available - having forms and a sealed box at Coffee Mornings, placing the form as an insert in the Newsletter at end of each term, requesting the Course Liaison volunteers to encourage feedback, and having a separate item in the Prospectus directing members to the feedback link on our website.

Remember – feedback is about improving what we do and how we do it. It is about better communication across the membership, being open to new ideas and being willing to embrace different ways of going about our business. Constructive feedback (ie containing both positive and negative comments), handled effectively can only strengthen our U3A.

The next meeting of the Courses Subcommittee is Friday 8 November 2013.

Day One – attended by Sally Kaptein and Jeanette Johnston

300 delegates from India, Singapore, New Zealand and other states around Australia gathered at the Melbourne Town Hall to be energised and inspired. There is no doubt that simply exchanging ideas and sharing problems with such a wide range of people is energising, but to also hear an address from the grandson of the founder of the organisation and an address from one of four people who founded U3A in Victoria made the day a special one.

Professor Vellas (Grandson of the Founder of U3A) is currently President of The International Association of the University of the Third Age. He explained that there are now 2.5 million members of U3A’s around the world and growing! When you consider that U3A started only in 1972, and in Australia the first meeting to start the organisation was 1984, then the overall growth is phenomenal!

In Victoria we now have 100 U3A organisations and 30,000 members – and we are the lead movement in Australia! Mr. Cliff Picton, one of the founders of U3A in Australia told us that when the proposal for U3A was canvassed it was met immediately with great enthusiasm and the movement spread like wildfire. He also explained that initially there was no funding sought from government, and indeed there was resistance to accepting funding (fear of losing independence). However the resistance was overcome. In 1988 as part of the bicentennial year a pool of money was received, which was used to fund the first international conference.

Government support has continued from that time and of course all governments can see the benefit of U3A in a number of ways: in purely economic terms and in terms of a significant and growing age demographic of the population that is able to benefit from improved quality of life through U3A activities.

All the speakers agreed that intellectual life is just as important in senior years as in younger years, and that the importance of U3A cannot be overestimated. It can be ‘the reason to get up in the morning and put on a clean shirt’!

The President of U3A Network Victoria, Elsie Mutton whose award for Senior Victorian of the year had just been announced, is to be congratulated for all her work for Network and together with her team for organising such a worthwhile conference. Elsie presented her vision for future endeavours for all U3A groups in Victoria as the need to search out multi cultural groups in our regions, embrace them and encourage them into the movement. She noted that although we know we are the fastest growing movement in Australia, membership numbers are still ‘miniscule’ in terms of the overall senior population, and we all need to spread the word.

The Minister for Ageing, David Davis MLC in his address to the conference described U3A as ‘a magnificent movement’. Now those words should encourage us as we approach different levels of officialdom for specific requests!

Sally Kaptein U3A Castlemaine Network Representative

Post Script: A conference of U3A and IAUTA will be held from 3 to 7 June 2014 in Toulouse, France. Odyssey Travel is organising a special package for anyone interested. Will there be a conference in Kathmandu? Watch this space for more news of international conferences.
We were very impressed with two motivational speakers, Karen Phillips and Yvonne Adele. Yvonne’s presentation “Creative Thinking for U3A” was inspiring, particularly about a different approach to drawing out new thoughts from a group. She invited delegates to contact her by email and request a free copy of a workbook to assist in the process. The presentation was interactive and we participated in a brief exercise to illustrate her approach. We were so stimulated by this that we think next year will be the year for U3A Castlemaine to have another Fresh Ideas Day.

The afternoon panel sessions were interesting. We heard that U3A’s in South Australia, Western Australia and Tasmania are all relatively small. There are 61 U3As in New South Wales and the ACT, and Queensland has 32 Groups. Victoria with more than 100 groups comprising 30,000 members just continues to grow. It was interesting to learn that NSW has one Webmaster at their Network for all the U3As in that state.

There is an Australian umbrella organisation called The Australian Alliance, not yet incorporated and operating on a Memorandum of Understanding. Australia is a member of the Asia Pacific Alliance and this group together with U3A Network Victoria organised the conference in Melbourne. A letter from the U3A Nepal offered to host the next conference in Kathmandu even though they were unable to attend this year.

www.u3aonline.org.au Di Delchau reported that U3A Online Australia is another growth area. It is very popular with those unable to get out and physically join a class. The website is interesting and Di suggests it has saved many members from severe isolation.

Members from the U3A Asia Pacific Alliance reported and we now know that U3A is growing in both India and China. Some people in Singapore on the other hand have been trying to grow U3A, but their representative commented that “the people do not seem to understand the idea of volunteering”, a curious notion when the idea is taking off in other Asian countries. Members from United Kingdom and France told stories of success and growth in their countries.

It was a worthwhile day and we were constantly reminded how lively and successful our Castlemaine U3A both is and has been.

Book sales at the 25th Birthday celebrations were promising and we have now sold about 50 copies but there are plenty more to sell. We will be selling the book at the November coffee morning and they are also now available from the office. Price $15 - a real bargain. A copy would make a great Christmas present or a gift for those friends who don't quite understand what U3A is about.

There has been a lot of favourable comment from members who have bought the history. This comment highlights the care, enthusiasm and skills of the talented team that produced it and the interest of those members who contributed suggestions, photos and articles.

Inevitably there are a couple of errors - have you spotted any? Well Enid Chapman has. On page 22 we record Ern Perkins as teaching Astrology. Perhaps Ern read his daily horoscope but he was a man of science and taught Astronomy. Not sure how that got through but we will put it down to a typing slip-up.

THE JANUARY HOLIDAY PROGRAMME

Ann Lodge and Bridget Leach

We are looking for members to organize activities, social events or outings that other members could enjoy any time in January when there are no regular U3A classes.

- Small groups could use the old U3A office (the manse room) if it’s available, but we cannot book any other spaces.
- You will need to provide a phone and/or email contact – there will be no central booking.
- We will publish the programme in the December newsletter.
- The deadline for inclusion in the programme is Friday 15 November.

We know there are members who value these get-togethers at this time of year, so please let us know if you could contribute to the programme.

If you are willing to run something, please contact Bridget Leach, 0434 971 451, email bridgeteleach@gmail.com.

APPLE EVERYTHING

The Apple Everything course will not be repeated in 2014, and unless an Apple enthusiast comes forward we will not be able to present a course to support members who would like to learn more about their Apple devices.

We are thankful for the support that Bruce Carruthers has given U3A Castlemaine members over the last three years of the Apple course, and to Mike Smith for facilitating the course over that time. Bruce will continue as our Web Manager and provide support for our database.

However, there is an alternative form of support for Apple and Mac users in the form of the Central Victorian Apple Users Inc (CVAU). This group meets on the Fourth Thursday of the month, 7.30pm at the Salvation Army Hall in Kennedy Street Castlemaine.

Have a look at their website www.cvmu.net or go along and join the group.

NEW CLASS

COURSE LEADERS’ WORKSHOP

This Workshop (comprising two half days one week apart) is intended to:

1. Provide new presenters with the information they need to fully prepare for their sessions;
2. Give them confidence in their ability to present their material in a meaningful and interesting way and to enjoy the experience; and
3. Enable them to practise their new skills in a supportive environment and to have the confidence to refine their approach where appropriate.

The Workshop will cover: How adults learn, Preparing your session plan, Use of training aids e.g., digital projector using power point, photocopiers, setting the scene – the environment in which the sessions are delivered, engaging individual members.

Day Two will give each participant the opportunity to present a short introductory session on their topic of around 10 minutes (using training aids where appropriate) in a very supportive learning environment, and to receive useful feedback.

Course leader: Pam Harris

November 13th we will meet at the Doveton Café, at the corner of Doveton and Hargreaves Street at 12.30 pm. Please contact Eileen Park on 54725213 by Monday, November 11.

December Christmas Dinner on December 11th has been planned by the good work of Betty Henchman at the Harcourt Tavern, 12.30 pm so enquiries and numbers to Betty please on 54722139.

SIT DOWN TAI CHI GROUP demonstrating in the Victoria Park as part of Seniors Week on Friday 11th October at 12.30pm.

There was a large group of people there and the Tai Chi class was warmly welcomed. Dot Henshall opened with a comment on the benefits of such exercise especially for older people.

ABORIGINAL HISTORY - OUR SHARED HISTORY
Felicity Say 5472 1841

5TH. NOVEMBER & 19TH. NOVEMBER

Our sessions for November will be devoted to the APY Lands: the Anangu people, the speakers of Pitjantjatjara and Yankuntjatjara languages. The stories will range from the establishment of the Ernabella Mission in Northern South Australia in the 1930’s as a buffer zone to protect the tribal people of the Musgrave Ranges from colonial encroachment, to a very contemporary theatre concept, telling the history of this vast, largely desert area, in conjunction with an attempt to introduce to a wider public, the idea of learning the Pitjantjatjara language.

SINGING TOGETHER
Rae Hawkins 5472 3446

This year seems to have passed very quickly. Sometime during November we expect to be performing at Hepburn House.

However a program has been planned. This will contain a variety of songs, and also include some of the lovely Australian carols, as well as some traditional carols so that people can join in if they wish.

We shall begin our Christmas break early in December, and recommence early in February 2014.

Why not come along next year, and give Singing Together a go?

Below, Angela Sye introduces the choir to the residents at Ellery House when they performed there last month.
November 1st - Chesnokov: 1877-1944 - new to the group, probably a pre-Revolutionary work by this Russian Orthodox composer.

Lose yourself in a lovely recording of this wonderful Russian work. Chesnokov’s sacred works were, for years, suppressed by Soviet Authorities. Devoted in his beliefs, he wrote over 400 choral works, mostly sacred, but the sacred output came to a standstill at the time of the Russian revolution and he stopped writing music altogether. His textures and harmonies are rich, fearlessly plumbing the depths of the Russian basses - down to low B’s! One of the few examples of an Orthodox Requiem, this CD captures a great sense of mystical spirituality in an emotionally compelling performance.

November 15th - Penderecki - we listened to this challengingly modern work in 2011 and decided we should try it again. It comes with a warning to those not happy to give their ear to such a different style of composition.

December 6th - Berlioz - another repeat listening, this time to an old favourite of some - and the most monumental of all the works we have listened to. We go out for this year with a BANG!

* We thought we were listening to a late requiem by Michael Haydn (of 1792) in C Minor, at our October session. I now read in the RequiemSurvey.org that in their opinion this work is NOT in fact by Michael Haydn - but by Georg von Pasterwitz 1730 - 1803.

OPERATION - AN OCCASIONAL EVENING SERIES
Vic Say 5472 1841

Attila by Verdi - November 1st at 7pm, CD with the libretto to follow if you want it -

An early work which strongly anticipates some of Verdi’s later works such as La Traviata. The epic historical storyline of the rampaging Attila and his Huns is the backdrop to a psychological drama between two obsessive characters, the apparently brutal Attila conquering the world but distracted by his love for the unsentimental Odabella and Odabella who absolutely places duty before affairs of the heart. The title role is sung in fine voice by Samuel Ramey, and Cheryl Studer is an outstanding Odabella. Riccardo Muti conducts the La Scala, Milan orchestra and chorus.

ISSUES OF CONCERN
CAROL DORMAN  5472 4429.

Most of the gas produced in Australia is exported. This seems short-sighted and it seems prudent to retain some for use by Australian industry but it seems the export dollar is hard to resist.

We noticed that coal seam gas mining and fracking was not mentioned during the election campaign - too controversial we guess. Fracking is still causing a great deal of concern because the water that is used to crack the coal to release the gas is full of toxins. The mining companies say that the water is "cleaned up". We doubt that it is cleaned to the extent that it is safe.

Russia is pressuring former Soviet States to form a Eurasian Union. Mr. Putin is facing resistance in that some former Soviet States already belong to or want to join the European Union; A source of potential conflict in the future?

Of all the ideas that Clive Palmer has, one seems to have merit. He wants all refugees that come to Australia to fly in and be processed immediately and either accepted or rejected without delay.

Cash Converters, who pay cash for items brought to them by the public, also lend money that is to be repaid the next payday. The trouble is they can charge up to 600 per cent interest thus putting their customers under continued financial stress.

FRIDAY MORNING
GARDEN GROUP
Shirley Curnow  5472  1729

In October we went to the Community Garden in Newstead and what an interesting time that was, we learned so much. I am still working on our activity for November, but please turn up as usual at 9.45am in the UCA cark park on Friday 15th November. It will be a big surprise!

ENCHANTING GARDENS
Tom Comerford 5470 6230

Have you a favourite garden in Australia? Do come and share your enchantment with our group. We meet at Veronica and Kevin Hurley's home. In the first session at 2.00pm on Tuesday 12th November we shall look at three interstate gardens and reminisce about interstate gardens our members have enjoyed visiting. In our second, and final, session we shall look at enchanting gardens which are to be found in the goldfields area of Victoria.

AUSTRALIAN HISTORY
Geoff Walker  5470  6652

Our two sessions in October proved to be very interesting. Geoff Walker gave us the story of Arthur Hoey Davis (Steele Rudd), who introduced us to the Dad and Dave legendary entertainment and made the Bulletin one of the most popular newspaper journals of the 20th century. Ailsa Longmuir presented to us the fascinating view of one of Australia's great female personalities, Caroline Chisholm. We need more of them!

In November, on Monday 11th, Barbara Bunton, will reveal some secrets with her presentation "When the Governor visited Castlemaine." Who? When? What? You will need to be there! In the old telegraph station, a couple of doors up Barker Street from the Post Office. (Please have $2 in your pocket.)

Our final study presentation for the year will be at 2pm on Monday 25th November, when Keith Neave will tell us all about Stuart Stoneman whose name will be remembered in Castlemaine for a long, long time. This session will be at the home of Geoff and Beth in Lyttleton Street.
